Bienville accident claims painter

BY GEOFF BELCHER

News Editor A Miami man died Monday from injuries suffered in a fall at Halter Marine's Port Bienville site.

Geronimo Antonio Mendoza, 24, was working for the Florida-based AVC Painting Contractor, which had contracted to do painting at the site, according to Hancock County Coroner Norma Stiglet,

"(Mendoza) was moving a scaffold and the scaffold tilted over, apparently taking him with it," Stiglet said, adding that there were several witnesses to the accident. Stiglet estimated the man fell about 24 feet. An autopsy was performed Tuesday.

"He only lived a few minutes after he fell ...," she said. "He had massive skull fractures and crush injuries to the back of the head."

Ronnie Cuevas, administrator for Hancock County Sheriff Steve Garber's office, said Wednesday that given available evidence, there is no reason to consider Mendoza's death anything but accidental, but said an official ruling is being withheld until the results or the autopsy are released.

The incident is under investigation by sheriff's investigator Kenny Hurt.

John Hastings, public relations director for Halter Marine's corporate offices in Gulfport, was unavailable for comment yesterday. Halter Marine, originally incorporated as Gulf Coast Fabrication, is one of the port's oldest tenants.

Deadline extended 'til Sept. 2001 for alternate route teacher certification

The State Board Education recently announced that it will delay the implementation date of new guidelines for the Alternate Route Program to Teacher Licensure until Sept. 1, 2001. The original deadline for completion of requirements was Sept. 1, 2000.

Alternate Certification is a method for students and adults with a college degree outside of the education field to complete licensure for secondary education.

This fall The University of Mississippi's Oxford and DeSoto Center (Southaven) campuses offer courses designated for the completion of the alternate route program.

They are Measurement and Evaluation (EDPY 303), Management Classroom (EDEL 519), and Educational Psychology or Curriculum and Instruction (EDPY 307). Courses do not have to be completed by Sept. 1, 2001.

However, the following criteria must be complete by Sept. 1,

• Bachelor's degree (not in education) from a regionallyaccredited institution of higher learning.

• Minimum scores required by the State Department of Education on the Praxis I (or National Teacher's Examination).

• Minimum scores required by the State Department of Education on the Content Mastery Examination for Educators in the endorsement area for which certification is sought.

Upon completion of these requirements, the Mississippi Department of Education (MDE) issues a three-year, nonrenewable teacher's certificate.

The certificate is converted to a standard, five-year, renewable certificate after completion of three three-hour courses, which include specified content by MDE.

If these courses have been completed prior to the initial application, the MDE grants a standard, five-year, renewable certificate.

The Legislature and the Department of Education of the State of Mississippi permit alternate route teacher certification in specific secondary school subject areas.

This route is an alternative to an approved teacher preparation program and is specific to Mississippi teacher certifica-

"CUEVAS" QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

The big July 4th holiday is now behind us and we have a breather for a couple of months until the next holiday weekend celebration which is Labor Day on September 4.

It seems we had record numbers of people here for the long, long holiday weekend.

Our highways and roadways, as well as waterways, were packed with traffic.

Hopefully everyone had a safe and sound holiday. One thing I did not appreciate. There were the remains of several bottle rockets on our roof at home.

I think people who use fireworks should try and send them in areas where there are no homes. It is very good. that the rains had come, because a residence could catch on fire very easily from fireworks.

I know some folks were upset with fire officials placing a ban on the use and sale of fireworks until as late as last Friday, but this was for the safety of the community. Even with the rains during the past few days, we are still very far behind in our yearly rainfall for the area.

And yes, as youngsters my brothers and I popped our share of fireworks. Most were much more powerful than you can purchase today, too.

The residents of the Garden Island Community Association need to be commended for the annual boat parade and picnic they have every July 4th weekend.

This event just shows what can been done within a community when folks get together.

The annual picnic is something that is very well organized and enjoyed by all in attendance. Everyone brings foods and refreshments, and the association provides a DJ for musical entertainment.

The residents of the community are a mixture of permanent and weekenders, and they all seem to get along together very well. As the community has grown, so has the participation in the annual gathering.

We really need more organizations like this within our cities and county.

This Saturday will mark the Bay St. Louis' Old Town Second Saturday with special events from 5 to 8 p.m.

Keith Hoda and The Country Sounds is scheduled to entertain in the 100 block of Main Street for the Second Saturday Artwalk.

For the event, restaurants and shops will offer Second Saturday specials.

A coming event is the annual St. Paul's Seafood Festival in Pass Christian scheduled for July 14-16.

This is another opportunity for some very good seafoods and entertainment over the three-day weekend. There are those who like arts and crafts shows, and the 17th annual Diamondhead Arts and Crafts Show is scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 30 and October 1. We will be giving you more information on the above as the time nears.

Good news for folks at Our Lady Academy in Bay St. Louis. Construction will take place in mid-July of a new academic and administration building and gymnasium.

The new gym will be used by Our Lady Academy and also Bay Catholic Elementary School. Our Lady of the Gulf parishioners have been working very hard, along with parents, to make the new addition to OLA a reality In addition to excelling in academics, the girls of OLA have been real state contenders in softball and soccer and are becoming known across the state.

A completion date for the additions at OLA is scheduled for June, 2001.

The Mississippi Department of Transportation needs to address the crumbling of the east lane of U.S. 90 at the intersection of Carroll and Ulman avenues and Genin Street in Bay St. Louis.

Since the recent rains, the asphalt at the very busy intersection is just crumbling.

The same cannot be said about the situation in Kosovo. does not want American troops to fight drug lords in his own country. He is not asking for someone else to solve this problem for Colombia.

Instead his plan is broader and involves economic, political and limited military aid which would allow the legitimate Colombian government - one of the oldest democracies in our hemisphere - to rid their homeland of narco-terrorists.

These ruthless drug-pushers have but one goal: to make Colombia the first nation fully controlled by drug lords, displacing a government freely-elected by Colombia's people.

If ever there were a reason If ever there were a national security emergency in our nation, it is this one. The drug war is a real shooting match bullets and all.

It has more consequences for America's future than anything emanating from the far-flung states where unstable American troops have recently trod, including Kosovo, Bosnia, Somalia and Haiti.

Webb School Halloween

Webb School students of Mrs. Bernice Ladner, circa 1955, participate in a Halloween party. Photo and identification submitted to Mrs. Ladner by Edward Carver. Mrs. Ladner is in the process of doing a history of the old R.W. Webb School which was closed in 1960 when students were moved to S.J. Ingram on Ulman Avenue across the street from old Bay High. Those in photo are, from left, Edward Carver, Irma Garcia, Nolan Strong, J.C. Page, Michael Shiyou, Larry Favre, Tommy Fletcher, Jerry Carver, Dolphus Shiyou, Judy Fletcher and Shirley Kenmore. Mrs. Ladner is seeking photos, newspaper clippings, relics, teachers' names, etc., on the Webb School. She can be contacted at 1075 Blue Meadow Road, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520. She is also receiving assistance from the Hancock County Historical Society, the Kate Labrano House, 108 Cue Street, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520, or call 467-4090. THE SEA

State crops took a beating in 1999

Mississippi farmers reeling from last year's low prices and often poor yields are pinning their hopes on many crops not projected to perform much better in 2000.

ATTENTION: HOMEOWNERS

If your home is raised above ground on creosote or wooden 8 X 8 piers: Please be advised that wood rot could be destroying the structural integrity of your wooden piers!

Even though these piers are treated, our experience has shown that moisture damage and wood rot can begin as early as 8 or 9 years after they are set in the ground. In some cases, the chemical protectant does not penetrate to the center of the pier. The damage then starts from within and works its way out. You don't know until serious damage is already done!

Pest Control Specialists, Inc. is offering a new way to protect your piers from moisture damage. Our "Pier Injection Protection Program" uses a marine grade wood protectant that we inject into the center of the pier where the protection is needed most. Done on a regular basis, this program could double or triple the lifespan of your piers! When you consider the expense of changing out the piers beneath your home, the "Pier Injection Protection Program" is affordable protection you can't afford to be without!

For a free evaluation and more information, please call Pest Control Specialists, Inc. at (228) 467-4336 or (228) 864-1888

The Mississippi Department of Human Services (MDHS) is seeking to fund proposals, created to assist at-risk families and children, from organizations, agencies and interested parties with the appropriate experience and qualifications.

We have developed a plan that allows us to use all federal dollars that are available to help Mississippi's working families. The Department of Human Services will manage these programs, ensuring that we wisely utilize the more than $70 million available to help children and families in our state move towards self-sufficiency," said Governor Ronnie Musgrove.

According MDHS to . Executive Director Bettye Ward Fletcher, "We will draw upon federal dollars to fund initiatives with the goal of helping to improve the quality of life for families and children in Mississippi.

Through these programs we will begin to address some of the unmet needs in areas such as childcare, parenting, education, post-employment support, and responsible fatherhood."

The temporary Assistance to (TANF) families Program initiatives fall into six categories with specific goals.

Expansion of Family First Resource Centers To preserve families and prevent disruptions caused by outof-home placement

Farm Bureau Invitational slated July 14-16

Dancing Rabbit Golf Course in Philadelphia will be the site of the Farm Bureau Invitational Golf Tournament set for July 14-16.

This tournament pits the state's golf professionals and top amateurs in a contest for cash, prizes, and bragging rights. Limited to only 176 players, 41 professionals and 135 amateurs are expected to participate in this year's competition. Title sponsor for this event is Farm Bureau Insurance of Mississippi.

BellSouth Mobility and Supertalk are the presenting sponsors. The total purse for professional and amateur golfers is $30,000. The professionals will play for cash prizes, while the amateur participants will vie for gift certificates and merchandise prizes, including golf equipment and accessories.

The tournament, which is a Mississippi PGA event, is open to any professional wishing to participate. Amateurs must have their handicap verified by a PGA Pro, and then submit their entry for consideration. Available slots are awarded to the amateurs with the lowest handicap.

"This tournament is definitely not just for the pros," said Mark Powell, tournament coordinator. "It is also an opportunity for amateur players to get a taste of what it is like to play professional golf.

As a matter of fact, amateurs have won the tournament the last three years, and the 1988 winner, Greg Howell, turned pro after winning this tournament.'

This is the first year the Farm Bureau Invitational has been hosted at Dancing Rabbit," said William E. "Sonny" Lawson, Farm Bureau vice president of sales.

we are pleased to be able to show such a high caliber course as well as high caliber players. Golf has certainly become a strong force on the Mississippi sports scene, and we are happy that this tournament has been a leading force over the years in highlighting Mississippi's best golfers."

The Farm Bureau Invitational is the only champion tournament in the state that allows professionals and amateurs to compete against one another.

The tournament site changes annually, moving each year to north, central, or southern Mississippi.

Memorial Hospice to train volunteers

Memorial Hospice will sponsor a two-day volunteer training workshop Thursday, July 27, 9 a.m.-4 p.m., and Friday, July 28, 9 a.m.-noon in the Hospice conference room at Memorial Hospital at Gulfport.

Hospice volunteers are offered a variety of opportunities within the Hospice Program, including assisting patients and their families with respite care and working in the Hospice office.

In addition, they can work as bereavement volunteers, keeping in touch with the family following a patient's death.

The goal of the Hospice Program is to improve the quality of life for people whose illness has reached a stage where there is no cure.

Through education, care and support, the program enables patients and their families to live with dignity and cope with the illness.

Anyone interested in applying for the workshop should contact Suzanne MaGee at 867-4160.

Deadline to register is Friday, July 14. Further information about the training will be given to approved applicants.

Newcomers Club to meet July 13

The Gulf Coast Newcomers Club will meet Tuesday, July 13 at the Holiday Inn Beachfront in Gulfport at 11 a.m. with lunch following at noon.

Women who have moved to the Coast in the past three years are invited to join.

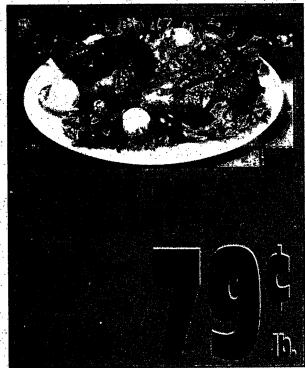

For information, call Jane 452-3684, Roma Ayers, Bugenhagen, 831-9712, or for reservations, call Lipscomb, 864-3303.
